

Alan Fish MS'01
Associate Vice Chancellor
Facilities Planning and Management
University of Wisconsin-Madison

Get a detailed view of the changing landscape of the University of Wisconsin-Madison campus, including plans for a brand new Union South, from associate vice chancellor Alan Fish. At Facilities Planning and Management, Fish provides leadership in evaluating and meeting campus facility needs, including long-range planning, construction, maintenance, environmental health and safety, space management and parking and transportation. He has overseen the planning and construction of many high-profile projects at the UW, including the Kohl Center, extensive renovation of Camp Randall Stadium, the cogeneration power plant and recent Microbial Sciences and Wisconsin Institutes for Medical Research buildings. Over $1.4 billion in campus construction projects are currently in design or construction.
