

Here Comes the ... Badger?

Something old, something new, something borrowed, someone with furry hands ... Is any wedding really complete without Bucky in attendance? He certainly doesn't think so. He takes great pleasure in seeing the fulfillment of young love — and even greater pleasure in seeing cake, particularly when the loving young couple doesn't mind his taking a second (or third) slice. In hopes of being invited to more banquets, Bucky went out and purchased this swank dinner jacket, suitable for weddings, funerals, bar mitzvahs, or any occasion at which cake might be served.
