BELIZE TO TIKAL
REEFS, RIVERS & RUINS OF THE MAYA WORLD
ABOARD NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC QUEST / FEBRUARY 23-MARCH 3, 2019
DEAR BADGER TRAVELER,

Our Belize-Guatemala expedition is particularly exciting for a number of reasons. The geography is truly remarkable—with a great diversity of ecosystems, and an abundance of land and marine species. On the human side, there is fascinating variety as well: the region contains many cultures and languages, and a rich history—it was part of the great Mayan civilization, some 1500 years ago.

This newly enhanced land-and-sea itinerary aboard the 50-cabin National Geographic Quest delivers the best of this region’s natural and archaeological wonders. Take to kayaks, Zodiacs, and paddleboards to explore crystalline waters, and land on out-of-the-way cayes adorned with sugar-white sand and a scatter of palm trees. Spot rainbow-colored fish, sea turtles, rays, and over 90 varieties of coral as you snorkel the Belize Barrier Reef, one of the largest coral reef systems in the world. And in Guatemala discover the spectacular temples and pyramids of Tikal and Yaxhá, cloaked within the lush jungle. Along the way local experts will unlock the many mysteries of the Mayan people.

And you’ll share the adventure with many other top experts—naturalists, biologists, undersea specialists—who will ensure that you get the most out of your journey. You’ll also benefit from the Lindblad-National Geographic certified photo instructor, who helps you capture it all in your best photos ever. The entire expedition team looks forward to sharing with you the sights, sounds, and memorable experiences this adventure will bring.

I hope you will choose to join us in this fascinating part of the world. To reserve your space, please return the reservation form or call 888-WIS-ALUM (888-947-2586).

Sincerely,

Sarah Schutt
Chief Alumni Officer and Executive Director
Wisconsin Alumni Association

P.S. Please note that traveling with the Wisconsin Alumni Association® (WAA) is now a member benefit, so although anyone—UW-Madison graduate or not—is welcome to explore the world with Badger travelers, at least one person in your party must be a WAA member to participate in a WAA tour. Membership information is available at uwalumni.com/membership.
Remarkable ruins and abundant rain forests take center stage on the land portion of this compact yet comprehensive expedition. In Tikal, one of the largest and most impressive archaeological sites of the pre-Columbian Maya civilization, delve into mystery and history as you explore well-preserved stone temples, palaces, ceremonial platforms, terraces, and roads cloaked in lush vegetation. You have a full day to explore this UNESCO World Heritage site, while local experts and the expedition staff share tales of this once great political and cultural center, weaving its history into an enlightening investigation.

You also venture off-the-beaten path to seldom-visited ruins. Enjoy stellar views at Yaxhá, beautifully situated on a ridge overlooking Yaxhá Lake, where you may choose to ascend to the top of Temple 216 in the Acrópolis Este for stunning views. Along with this fascinating human history, discover a myriad of wildlife up in the canopies and down on the rain forest floor. Hike into the Maya Biosphere Reserve amid giant ceiba trees—the sacred tree of the Maya—and with the help of experienced naturalists search for 400+ species of birds, howler and spider monkeys, tapirs, tree frogs, and more.

BELIZE: DIVE INTO A WEALTH OF BIODIVERSITY

An invigorating counterpoint to the historic and natural riches on land, the Belize Barrier Reef, a UNESCO World Heritage site and the largest reef system in the Northern Hemisphere, reveals a wide spectrum of sea life—hundreds of species of fish, majestic sea turtles, graceful rays, gentle manatees, and 65 varieties of hard coral and 35 varieties of soft coral. As only a small percentage of the reef has been studied, researchers believe hundreds more species could be discovered in this protected zone.

Aboard National Geographic Quest, the only expedition ship exploring the Mesoamerican Reef, you get up-close access to places such as the Cockscomb Basin Wildlife Sanctuary, recognized as the world’s first jaguar preserve, and for its diverse tropical plants and abundant birdlife. In addition, a suite of onboard tools—snorkel gear for every guest, Zodiacs, kayaks, stand-up paddleboards, video microscope—lets you experience this vibrant underwater wilderness with all your senses. Kayak or paddleboard on turquoise lagoons, and snorkel or dive on colorful reefs. Or see it all from the comfort of the ship; the onboard undersea specialist will dive and shoot with an HD video camera, and you can view the footage on plasma screens in the lounge, making these wild, beautiful places accessible to all.
THE PERFECT PLATFORM FOR EXPLORING

National Geographic Quest benefits from 35+ years of expedition experience, whether she is sailing in the fast-moving channels and shallow coves of Alaska, or the tropical waterways of Central America. She was designed with a shallow draft depth, allowing us to navigate inner reaches and reefs, to provide an intimate experience of the charismatic region you explore on this voyage. Her twin platforms enable us to rapidly deploy the fleet of Zodiacs, kayaks, and paddleboards; and her dive locker holds complete snorkel gear for all, to ensure you maximize your time exploring off the ship. A supremely comfortable ship, Quest offers large view-encompassing windows in her public spaces, and 50 spacious outside cabins, 22 of which feature step-out balconies; and 6 of which are interconnecting, ideal for families and friends.

SHARE THE ADVENTURE WITH AN EXPERT TEAM

The A+ expedition team that accompanies you is your key to unlocking the wonders that lie within the diverse ecosystems and spectacular archaeological sites you explore. You travel with an expedition leader, an assistant expedition leader, and several naturalists—many of whom are knowledgeable locals—plus an undersea specialist and an expedition diver, a wellness specialist, and a video chronicler. A Lindblad-National Geographic certified photo instructor is also aboard to assist you. Whether you are a novice or more advanced, you will take your best photos ever.

SPECIAL MUSICAL FEATURE

Ethnomusicologist Jacob Edgar has arranged for a performance by the internationally renowned Garifuna Collective, the premier representative of Garifuna music from Belize on the international stage.

Opposite page (clockwise from top): National Geographic Quest carries a fleet of Zodiacs which can be launched at a moment’s notice; kayaking allows for personal exploration; discover diverse habitats up close on Zodiac forays; naturalists help you spot birds and other wildlife.
