

1. Can we still host events that aren't supported by UW (ex. Posted on social media?)
 - a. WFAA does not encourage any large gatherings due to CDC, federal, and state recommendations.
2. How will refunds and cancellation notices be handled?
 - a. All refunds and cancellations will be handled by WFAA.
3. What if our chapter put down a deposit on a space for an event?
 - a. Check in with your event venue, many spaces have been flexible due to COVID-19 and are allowing credit for future events. If this is not possible, please contact your chapter representative.
4. What happens if my event is in May? Should we move forward in planning?
 - a. Yes, you may move forward, however know that this is a rapidly evolving situation, so please be in touch with your chapter representative before submitting anything.
5. Should we include something about COVID-19 in our newsletters?
 - a. You may include something, but please know that it will need to be approved by WFAA marketing who will adjust language if needed in order to be aligned.
6. When will chapter communications start going out again?
 - a. We will begin sending out chapter communications (newsletters, etc.) no earlier than the week of 3/23
7. Will we still have chapter leader calls?
 - a. Yes, we are still running business as usual.
8. What is the status of Day of the Badger?
 - a. In an effort to be cognizant of the current situation facing our alumni and friends, this is still under discussion.
9. Can we postpone our Founders' Day later in the year?
 - a. For many reasons, we are unable to support Founders Days' beyond May 31. If your chapter would like to host an event, please contact your chapter representative to explore your options.
10. Are all events after April 30 guaranteed?
 - a. We will be continuing to assess all events as the situation evolves.
11. Will Student Sendoff and other summer events go on as planned?
 - a. As of now, we do not foresee any interruptions to Student Sendoff or other summer events.
